NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY
TRIPURA

From the Desk of the Vice-Chancellor

It gives me immense pleasure to present Volume IV of Cronoca Gazetta, the official Newsletter of National Law University, Tripura, capturing the vibrant activities and significant milestones achieved during the period from 1st January to 30th June 2025. The 1st half of this year has been particularly momentous for the University. The Bhoomi Pujan Ceremony for the construction of NLU Tripura's new campus marked a historic step towards the realisation of the institution's vision of a state-of-the-art learning environment dedicated to excellence in legal education and research. This milestone not only symbolizes our growth but also strengthens our commitment to building an institution of national and international repute.

Another notable highlight of this period was the 1st Apanshu Mohan Lodh Memorial Lecture, delivered by Hon'ble Mr. Justice Deepak Gupta, Former Judge, Supreme Court of India. His insightful address on Rule of Law and Role of the High Courts inspired our academic community and set a commendable benchmark for future editions of this lecture series.

We also conducted a series of workshops and extension lectures aimed at enhancing student learning and building the capacity of our faculty members, thereby fostering a culture of continuous academic enrichment. Among these initiatives, the Two-Day Workshop on Police Investigation, Arrest, Bail, and Police Discretion, conducted by Dr. Satyajit Mohanty, IPS (Retd.), Former DGP of Odisha, was highly appreciated by the student community. In addition, the University conducted a UNICEF-supported workshop on ending child marriages in Tripura, carried out School Connect Programmes across various schools, and undertook legal aid activities, highlighting the University's strong commitment to social justice and community development.

NLU Tripura has also actively engaged in impactful research and community engagement programmes, including providing handholding support to 480 Gram Panchayats and Village Committees across the Gomati, West Tripura, and Sepahijala districts for the preparation of the Gram Panchayat Development Programme (GPDP). Furthermore, the signing of Memoranda of Understanding with the Vidhi Centre for Public Policy and the National Forensic Sciences University, Tripura, has opened new avenues for collaboration in research, policy engagement, and skill development.

These achievements reflect the dedication of our faculty, staff, students, and the unwavering support of our stakeholders. As we continue our journey of growth and innovation, I am confident that NLU Tripura will emerge as a hub for critical legal thought, public policy engagement, and impactful societal contributions.

I extend my best wishes to all readers of this volume of Cronoca Gazetta and hope you find it a meaningful record of our collective progress and aspirations.

Bhoomi Puja Ceremony

On February 06, 2025, the NLUT marked a significant milestone with the Bhoomi Puja (Groundbreaking Ceremony) for its new campus. The event was attended by Professor (Dr.) Manik Saha, the Hon'ble Chief Minister of Tripura, Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh, Chief Justice of the High Court of Tripura and Chancellor of NLUT, and Professor (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, the founding Vice-Chancellor of NLUT. Professor Singh delivered the welcome address, designating the occasion as historic and underscoring the significance of academic integrity and excellence within legal education. He also highlighted the outreach and research activities undertaken by NLUT. Chief Justice of the High Court of Tripura, Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh, commended the rapid progress of NLUT and expressed his optimism regarding its potential to emerge as a leading institution for legal education in India. Professor (Dr.) Manik Saha, Hon'ble Chief Minister of Tripura, expressed his privilege in participating in the ceremony and committed to the advancement of NLUT. He called for the university to aspire beyond mere legal education and to priorities research and interdisciplinary learning by integrating law with technology, governance, and business studies.

Finally, Ms. Aparajita Banerjee, Assistant Registrar of NLUT, delivered the vote of thanks and expressed the university's unwavering commitment to excellence in legal education and research. HMJ T. Amarnath Goud, Judge, High Court of Tripura, HMJ Arindham Lodh, Judge, High court of Tripura, HMJ S. D. Purkayastha, Judge, High Court of Tripura, HMJ Biswajit Palit, Judge, High Court of Tripura, HMJ U.B. Saha, Former Judge High court of Tripura, Learned Advocate General, Government of Tripura, Chairman State Bar Council, Secretary, Higher Education, Government of Tripura, Secretary Public Works Department, Government of Tripura, other senior officials of High Court and Government were present on this historic occasion.

Academic Events

Prof. (Dr.) Poonam Pradhan Saxena Conducted Classes on Family Law – II

Prof. (Dr.) Poonam Pradhan Saxena, Senior Professor, Delhi University and Former Vice-Chancellor, NLU Jodhpur took classes from February 23-28, 2025; she imparts proficiency in Family Law to NLUT Second-Year Student's, demonstrating its commitment to providing students with unparalleled academic exposure. Professor Saxena, leveraging her extensive knowledge and experience in the intricacies of personal laws, delivered engaging and insightful lectures on various aspects of family law, enriching the students understanding of legal principles, contemporary issues, and judicial interpretations within this critical area of law. This focused engagement with such a distinguished scholar provided the second-year students with a unique opportunity to learn directly from a leading authority, fostering a deeper appreciation for the complexities and nuances of family law and further enhancing their legal education at NLUT.

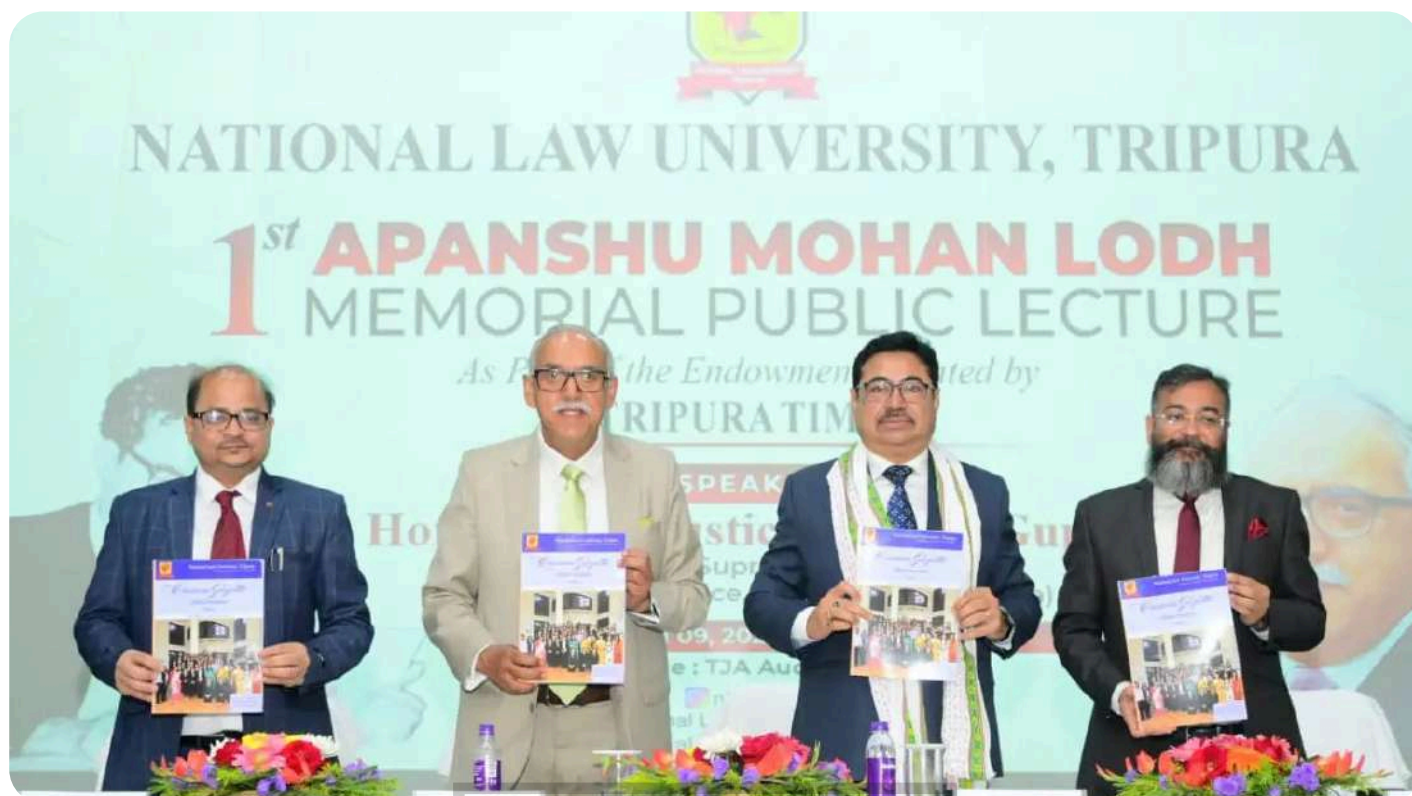

Prof. (Dr.) V. Kesava Rao, former Vice-Chancellor of NUSRL Ranchi and DSNLU Visakhapatnam, visited National Law University, Tripura from March 07 to 10, 2025. During his visit, Prof. (Dr.) Rao conducted academic sessions on two key subjects—Law of Evidence for fourth-semester students and Law of Contract for second-semester students. A distinguished scholar and leading authority in both fields, Prof. Rao’s lectures enriched the learning experience for students, faculty, and research scholars alike. His deep knowledge, clarity of thought, and engaging teaching style made the sessions intellectually stimulating and informative. The university community greatly benefited from his presence.

Special Lecture by Prof. (Dr.) Uday Shankar on Fundamental Rights and Directive Principles

Prof. (Dr.) Uday Shankar from the Rajiv Gandhi School of Intellectual Property Law, IIT Kharagpur, delivered a thought-provoking special lecture on “Fundamental Rights and Directive Principles” at National Law University, Tripura, on March 08 and 10, 2025. A renowned scholar in constitutional law, Prof. Shankar offered deep insights into the evolution, interpretation, and contemporary significance of Fundamental Rights and Directive Principles within the Indian constitutional framework. His lectures engaged LL.M. students in critical discussions on balancing individual liberties and socio-economic objectives, enhancing their academic understanding and constitutional perspective. The sessions were intellectually enriching and well-received by students and faculty alike, reaffirming NLU Tripura’s commitment to fostering meaningful academic engagement.

NLUT successfully hosted the 1st Apanshu Mohan Lodh Memorial Public Lecture on March 09, 2025 which was instituted through an endowment by Tripura Times. Hon'ble Mr. Justice Deepak Gupta, former Judge, Supreme Court, of India and the first Chief Justice of the High Court of Tripura, delivered a compelling lecture on “Rule of Law and the Role of High Courts”. Quoting Aristotle, he emphasized the foundational importance of law and highlighted the High Courts’ duty to uphold the Constitution, particularly through Article 226. He also called for greater legal literacy in Tripura. The event was graced by Justice Arindam Lodh and family, who paid tribute to Lt. Apanshu Mohan Lodh, a revered legal figure and founding editor of Tripura Times. Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, Founding Vice-Chancellor, highlighted NLUT’s academic strides. The lecture concluded with an interactive Q&A session and a vote of thanks by Prof. (Dr.) Nachiketa Mittal, Registrar (I/C), NLUT.

The Centre for Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) at NLUT organized a series of special guest lectures on Mediation and Arbitration for second-year students on March 11 and 12, 2025. Shri K. K. Makhija, Senior Trainer with the Mediation and Conciliation Project Committee (MCPC) of the Supreme Court of India, delivered insightful lectures on mediation and arbitration law fundamentals, highlighting their growing importance in contemporary legal practice. Students also had the opportunity to observe mock mediation exercises and role plays conducted by Shri S. Arunachalam, another Senior Trainer with the MCPC. These practical demonstrations provided students with a hands-on understanding of the mediation process. Prof. (Dr.) Nachiketa Mittal, Director of the ADR Research Centre, facilitated the sessions and discussed strengthening ADR initiatives and research at the university. The interactive and educational event significantly enriched the students' knowledge of alternative dispute resolution mechanisms.

NLU Tripura welcomed Prof. (Dr.) V.K. Ahuja from the Senior Professor, University of Delhi and Currently Director, ILI New Delhi on March 25, 2025, for an academic engagement that greatly enriched the university's intellectual environment. Addressing faculty and students, Prof. (Dr.) Ahuja discussed the growing importance of high-quality legal research and publishing in reputed journals. He emphasized the need for interdisciplinary approaches and encouraged students to pursue original, impactful scholarship. The interactive session allowed students to seek advice on research methods, publication ethics, and academic writing. Prof. (Dr.) Ahuja also highlighted the importance of maintaining academic integrity and global perspectives in legal education. The visit concluded with a formal expression of gratitude and a commitment to continue fostering educational excellence.

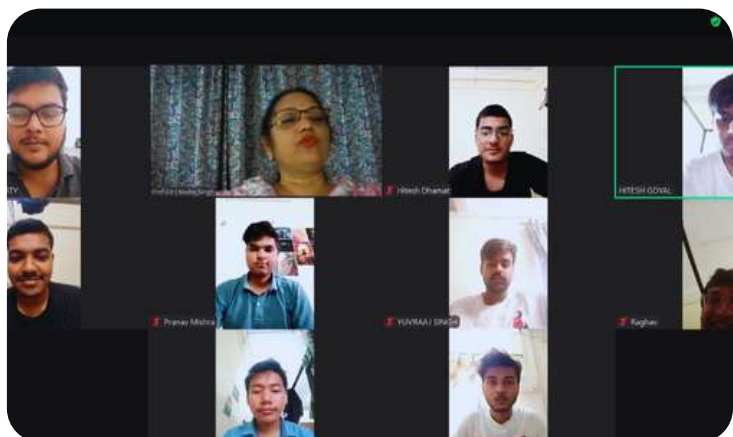

Mr. Ashutosh Pandey, Director, Tripura Judicial Academy Conducted Classes on Hindu Law of Succession

Mr. Ashutosh Pandey, Director, Tripura Judicial Academy took classes for 2nd year students from April 23-30, 2025. In his lectures he covered the Hindu Succession Act 1956, which governs intestate succession for Hindus. The Act has undergone significant change with the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, 2005, granting equal rights to daughters. Mr. Pandey also discussed about the Class I, II, Agnates and Cognates with suitable judicial pronouncements and illustrations.

Prof. (Dr.) Kavita Singh, Professor of Law, WBNUJS, Kolkata Conducted Classes on Muslim, Christian and Parsi Law of Succession

Prof. (Dr.) Kavita Singh, The West Bengal National University of Juridical Sciences, Kolkata had taken expert lectures on Muslim, Christian and Parsi Law of Succession for 2nd year students from May 01-07, 2025. Muslim succession is not codified like Hindu law, except in a few statutory provisions (e.g., Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) Application Act, 1937). Prof. (Dr.) Singh covered various aspects of Muslim law including Shia and Sunni law.

Faculty Development Programme

Prof. (Dr.) Poonam Pradhan Saxena Engages with NLU Tripura Faculty as Part of Capacity Building Initiative

Prof. (Dr.) Poonam Pradhan Saxena enriched NLUT Faculty skills in Capacity Building Initiative, continuing its commitment to academic excellence and faculty development. Professor Saxena, known for her expertise in Family law, Property law and Women and law, engaged in a series of interactive sessions and workshops with NLUT faculty members, focusing on innovative teaching methodologies, advanced research techniques, and effective curriculum development aligned with contemporary legal challenges and pedagogical advancements. The initiative underscores NLUT's proactive approach towards nurturing a dynamic and highly skilled faculty, ensuring the institution remains at the forefront of legal education in the Northeast region and beyond.

Prof. (Dr.) N.K. Chakraborty, Vice-Chancellor, WBNUJS, Kolkata Interacts with Faculty Members of NLU Tripura

On March 24, 2025, NLUT had the honour of hosting Prof. (Dr.) N.K. Chakraborty, Vice Chancellor of WBNUJS, Kolkata, for interaction with the faculty. The session focused on the evolving landscape of legal education, with special emphasis on implementing the National Education Policy (NEP). Prof. (Dr.) Chakraborty shared valuable insights on curriculum innovation, interdisciplinary learning, and institutional collaboration. Faculty members actively participated, raising pertinent academic and administrative queries, which led to a meaningful exchange of ideas. The visit marked a step towards building academic partnerships and enhancing the university's pedagogical approach. His thoughts on legal research and experiential learning resonated with the academic community and inspired further reflection on academic growth.

Memorandum of Understanding (MoU)

NLUT Inks MoU with M/s. Vidhi Centre for Legal Policy

On January 27, 2025, NLUT entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with the Vidhi Centre for Legal Policy, beginning a collaborative initiative to deepen student engagement with law and public policy. As part of this partnership, the University hosted the establishment of the “Kautilya Society”—a student-led forum designed to foster critical thinking, policy analysis, and practical exposure to legislative frameworks. With Vidhi’s expertise as an independent legal think-tank committed to advancing good governance, the Society will serve as a platform for students to participate in research-driven activities, policy dialogues, and structured opportunities such as internships and career pathways. This collaboration not only enhances the academic ecosystem at NLUT but also equips students with the tools to become active contributors to legal and policy reform in India.

NLUT Inks MoU with NFSU Tripura Campus

In a significant step towards academic and research collaboration, National Law University Tripura (NLUT) and National Forensic Science University (NFSU) Agartala Campus have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on February 14, 2025. The signing ceremony was held at the NFSU Tripura campus and was attended by distinguished dignitaries, faculty members, and students from both institutions. The Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) enhances interdisciplinary research, promotes knowledge exchange, and facilitates collaborative academic programs within law and forensic science. Key areas of collaboration under this MoU include:

- Development of joint certificate, diploma, and degree programs;
- Exchange of faculty and research scholars for knowledge-sharing initiatives;
- Organization of workshops, seminars, and conferences on forensic law and criminal justice;
- Joint research projects focusing on contemporary legal and forensic challenges;
- Internship and training programs for students of forensic science and legal institutions.

Workshops and Seminars

State-Level Multi-Stakeholder Dialogue on Effective Implementation of Child Specific Legislations

The Centre for Woman and Child Rights (CWCR), National Law University Tripura in collaboration with UNICEF conducted a State-Level Multi-Stakeholder Dialogue on Effective Implementation of Child Specific Legislations on January 10, 2025. The event featured Mr. Saju Vaheed A., District Magistrate and Collector of Dhalai, Tripura. He addressed the persistent challenges related to the safety, education, and welfare of women and girl children in the backward regions of the state. Despite the presence of various government policies, issues such as school dropouts and child marriages remain prevalent. In response, Mr. Vaheed has initiated the Balika Manch Program, a proactive initiative that monitors school attendance among girl children. Under this program, if a girl is absent from the school for more than seven consecutive days, designated officer's conduct inquiries to ascertain the reasons, and in cases of economic hardship, necessary governmental support is extended. The program also includes targeted measures to prevent child marriages, thereby promoting the broader goals of education, empowerment, and protection of girl children in Tripura.

The National Law University Tripura (NLUT), in collaboration with the Rural Development (RD) Panchayat Department, Government of Tripura, hosted a one-day workshop to review the Gram Panchayat Development Plan (GPD) on January 10, 2025. The workshop was held at the State Panchayat Resource Centre (SPRC), A.D. Nagar, Champer Bazar. The workshop was attended by 495 Panchayat secretaries from West Tripura, Gomati, and Sepahijala districts. The workshop was led by Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, Vice-Chancellor, NLUT and Mr. Prasun De, Director, RD Panchayat. The workshop aimed to address the grassroots challenges of panchayats and provide innovative solutions for sustainable rural development. There were experts and mentors present who provided feedback and strategies on GPDs to achieve Local Sustainable Development Goals (LSDGs).

NLUT organized a five-day online workshop on Dissertation Writing for LL.M. students from February 10 to 14, 2025. The workshop aimed to equip postgraduate law students with essential research and writing skills necessary for academic dissertation work. Dr. Parikshet Sirohi, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Delhi, delivered the expert sessions during the workshop. He extensively guided the students on how to formulate a synopsis for their dissertations, covering the conceptual framework and structure necessary for a strong research proposal. Dr. Parikshet also introduced the students to the fundamentals of legal research methodology, focusing on the formulation of research problems, objectives, hypotheses, and literature review. A key highlight of the sessions was the in-depth discussion on formatting guidelines, citation standards, and the proper use of footnotes, which are crucial for academic writing in law. The sessions were interactive and insightful, offering practical advice to help students enhance the quality of their research work. The workshop was efficiently coordinated by Dr. Jayanta Dhar, Faculty Member at the NLUT whose support ensured the smooth execution of the program. Overall, the workshop was a valuable academic experience for all participants. It strengthened the foundational knowledge of research writing and encouraged scholarly engagement with the dissertation process.

NLUT hosted a significant discourse on “Viksit Northeast Bharat @2047: An Agenda for Swadeshi and Swavlambi Samridhh Purvottar,” a special lecture organized by its Center for Northeast Studies and Policy Research (CNESPR) on February 20, 2025 bringing together academics, policymakers, and students to envision a developed Northeast India by 2047. Dr. Deepak Sharma, Registrar of Tripura University, delivered the keynote address, emphasizing India’s rich heritage and the untapped potential of the Northeast region in achieving the national “Viksit Bharat” mission, while passionately advocating for a growth-oriented mind-set among the youth, urging them towards entrepreneurship and embracing self-reliance “Swavlambi” through indigenous solutions “Swadeshi”. Professor (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, Vice-Chancellor of NLUT, further highlighted the crucial role of the region’s young minds in shaping India’s future.

Introductory Sessions on Career in Public Policy

NLUT hosted engaging introductory sessions on Diverse Legal Fields and Career Pathways in Public Policy on March 06, 2025. Committed to providing its students with comprehensive insights into the vast landscape of legal careers and beyond, the NLUT organized a series of introductory sessions that delved into various specialized areas of law, coupled with a dedicated session exploring the increasingly significant career avenues within public policy. These interactive sessions, aimed to broaden students understanding of potential professional trajectories beyond traditional legal practice, highlighting the interdisciplinary nature of law and the impactful roles legal professionals can play in shaping public policy, thus equipping them with a broader perspective as they navigate their academic and future career choices.

On April 23, 2025, Kautliya Society organized a workshop in collaboration with Vidhi Centre for Legal Policy. The workshop was led by Ms. Mayuri Gupta, Milon K. Banerji, Senior Resident at Charkha, and Mr. Anshul Dalmia, Research Fellow at Charkha, unpacked the hidden crisis of electoral boundaries and representation gaps. The topics covered were:

- The 84th Constitutional Amendment and the 1971 census;
- Risks of gerrymandering, SC/ST dilution, and federal tension;
- Real-time simulations and data-driven analysis; and
- Emerging North-South representation imbalance;

One-Day Workshop on Legal Writing

On April 24, 2025 during the workshop, the participants delved into the intricacies of legal writing, with a particular emphasis on academic compositions and the art of memorial drafting. The session introduced the ILAC method, an essential framework for structuring legal arguments, enabling attendees to approach complex issues systematically. Then the workshop further explored techniques for crafting persuasive and logically coherent memorials, ensuring that participants understood how to present their arguments effectively and convincingly. Additionally, the workshop aimed to bridge the often-perceived divide between theoretical knowledge gained in the classroom and the practical application of these principles in a courtroom setting, providing valuable insights for budding legal professionals.

On April 26, 2025, NLUT hosted a Dissemination Workshop on the Situation Analysis and State Plan of Action for Ending Child Marriages in Tripura. The workshop brought together legal scholars, policymakers, and civil society representatives to discuss recent findings and actionable strategies to combat child marriage in the state. Emphasis was placed on education, community awareness, and enforcement of existing laws. The event highlighted the importance of collaborative, multi-sectorial responses in addressing deep-rooted social issues. Through this event, the students gained valuable exposure to real-world policy work and legal activism. The workshop reaffirmed NLUT's commitment to using legal education as a tool for social change and child rights advocacy.

The Centre for Criminal Justice and Human Rights at NLUT hosted an intensive two-days workshop on May 06–07, 2025, focusing on critical aspects of criminal procedure and police practices. The workshop was led by Dr. Satyajit Mohanty, IPS (Retd.), former Director General of Police, Odisha, and currently Adjunct Professor at NLU Odisha, whose vast experience in law enforcement brought deep insights into the complexities of police investigation, arrest procedures, bail jurisprudence, and the exercise of police discretion. Through a structured and comprehensive exploration of key modules, participants engaged with topics ranging from the technicalities of evidence collection and custodial protocols to broader issues of police reforms and the rights of arrested individuals. The sessions encouraged dynamic interaction and practical understanding, enriching students and faculty's academic and professional outlook. Certificates were awarded upon completion, acknowledging the participants' commitment to deepening their knowledge of criminal justice processes. The workshop was proficiently coordinated by Dr. Jayanta Dhar, Assistant Professor of Law and Director of the Centre for Criminal Justice and Human Rights.

On May 23, 2025, the National Law University, Tripura in association with the Voluntary Health Association of Tripura (VHAT), hosted a State-Level Multi-Stakeholders Workshop on Tobacco Control at its Narsingarh campus. The workshop brought together key representatives from the health and education sectors, law enforcement and civil society, academia, and youth organizations to deliberate on strategies for strengthening tobacco control efforts across the state. The inaugural session featured addresses by prominent dignitaries including Smt. Kalyani Saha Roy, Hon'ble Chief Whip of the Tripura Legislative Assembly, alongside senior administrative and health officials. Technical sessions explored the enforcement of COTPA, 2003, the implementation of TOEFI guidelines in educational institutions and the role of local governance. With rich discussions led by experts and practitioners, the workshop concluded on a strong note of collaboration, resolving to enhance coordination among stakeholders and pursue sustained legal, policy, and awareness-driven interventions for a tobacco-free Tripura.

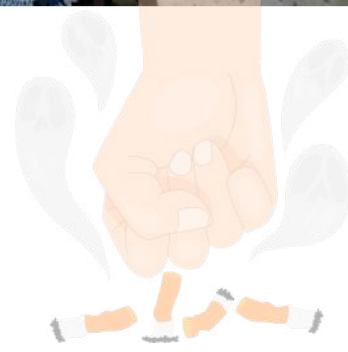

One Day National Consultation on Strengthening Tobacco Control Laws in India organized in collaboration with NLU Odisha and NLU Delhi on June 03, 2025 at NLU Delhi Campus. The event was graced by Prof. (Dr.) G. S. Bajpayee, Vice-Chancellor, NLU Delhi, Dr. Rana J Singh, Director, Vital Strategies, India, Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, Vice-Chancellor, NLUT and Officials from Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India.

Training Programme on Panchyati Raj System and Other Allied Issues

The National Law University, Tripura conducted a “Training Programme on Panchyati Raj System and Other Allied Issues” jointly organized by RD (Panchayat) Department, Government of Tripura. This event was organized for the newly appointed BDOs from June 16 to 23, 2025.

Ph.D. 2nd Batch Orientation and Coursework Classes

The Orientation and Coursework Classes for the second batch of Ph.D. scholars at National Law University, Tripura were held from May 26 to June 06, 2025, marking the beginning of their academic journey with insightful lectures by distinguished academicians—Prof. (Dr.) Vijender Kumar, Vice-Chancellor, Maharashtra National Law University, Nagpur, and Prof. (Dr.) Sarfaraz Ahmed Khan, Professor, West Bengal National University of Juridical Sciences. The sessions were designed to equip the scholars with a strong foundation in research methodology. The experts elaborated on the fundamentals of legal research, guiding students through the process of identifying and refining research topics, understanding the characteristics of high-quality research, and formulating precise research problems. Emphasis was also placed on the critical role of structured drafting in academic work and mastering citation techniques, with specific focus on various footnoting styles. The lectures not only laid a solid groundwork for the scholars but also fostered a research-oriented mind-set essential for scholarly excellence.

Prof. (Dr.) Vijender Kumar, Vice-Chancellor, MNLU, Nagpur conducted classes on Research Methodology

During the session, Prof. (Dr.) Kumar provided an in-depth exploration of essential components of the research process, including the development of a coherent research plan, effective formulation of research problems, and mastery of referencing styles. Through a blend of theoretical insights and practical exercises, the workshop offered scholars a structured framework to navigate the complexities of legal research, laying a strong foundation for their doctoral journey.

National Law University Tripura had the privilege of hosting Prof. (Dr.) Sarfaraz Ahmed Khan, Professor at the West Bengal National University of Juridical Sciences, for a focused research workshop aimed at strengthening the academic foundations of its doctoral scholars. Prof. (Dr.) Khan's sessions offered a meticulous understanding of research methodology, guiding participants through the principles of legal inquiry, the formulation of precise and researchable hypotheses, and the application of different legal methods. Furthermore, Prof. Khan encouraged scholars to approach legal research with analytical precision and intellectual curiosity, equipping them with the essential tools for producing meaningful and methodologically sound research output.

Getting Started: A Workshop with Doctoral Candidates of NLUT by Prof. (Dr.) Amita Dhanda

Prof. (Dr.) Amita Dhanda, a distinguished legal academician known for her expertise in legal theory, law and poverty, and rights-based approaches to exclusion and inclusion, conducted a three-day workshop with the doctoral scholars of National Law University Tripura. Her sessions, held from May 28 to 30, 2025, offered a deeply engaging and reflective experience. The first session initiated a conversation on “Why do I wish to do a Ph.D.?”. Encouraging scholars to introspect on their research motivations, the personal connect with their topics, and the risk of personal biases affecting academic rigour. On the second day, Prof. Dhanda delved into the nature and function of theory, enabling scholars to critically engage with theoretical frameworks relevant to their individual theses. The final day was dedicated to the Review of Literature, where she clarified the distinctions between methods and methodology, helped scholars identify research gaps, and guided them in articulating their research objectives. The workshop was intellectually stimulating and proved invaluable in strengthening the research foundations of the participating scholars.

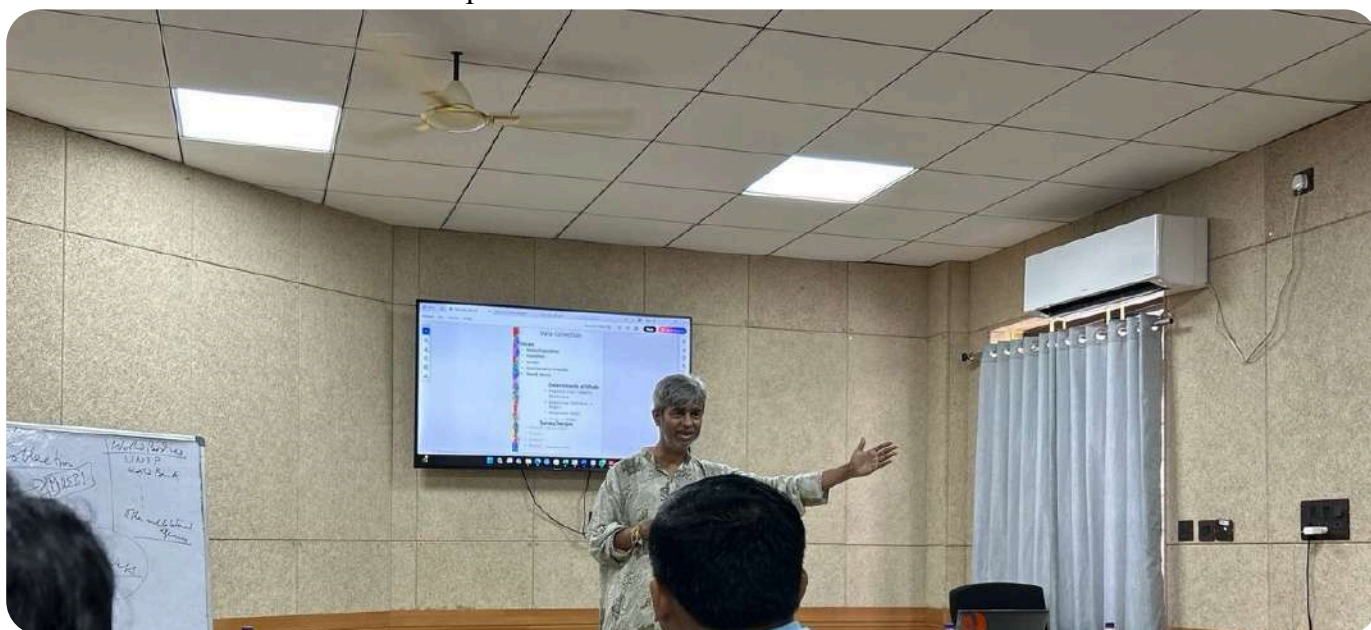

As part of the on-going Ph.D. coursework, scholars had the privilege of attending two intellectually stimulating sessions led by Prof. (Dr.) Mittal on June 02-03, 2025. These sessions were thoughtfully crafted to shift the scholars' approach from passive reading to active academic engagement. His core objective was to inculcate in them the ability to think critically, engage with complex texts, and articulate their own original ideas through structured writing. To facilitate this, Prof. (Dr.) Mittal selected three different readings for the scholars — all centred around a common theme and assigned them prior to the sessions. This multi-textual approach enabled the scholars to compare perspectives, understand the nuances of legal discourse, and reflect on the evolution of thought within a particular area of law.

Prof. (Dr.) Indraneel Bhowmick, Professor of Economics, Department of Economics, Tripura University conducted classes on Research Design

Prof. (Dr.) Indraneel Bhowmick, a distinguished faculty member from the Department of Economics at Tripura University, conducted two engaging and insightful lecture sessions on Research Designs and Data. In the first session dated June 04, 2025, he laid a foundational understanding of research design, explaining it as the strategic blueprint guiding a study from its purpose and scope to its data collection and analytical framework. He elaborated on various types of research designs such as case studies, causal, cohort, correlation, cross-sectional, descriptive, diagnostic, experimental, exploratory, field research, longitudinal, mixed methods, and observational designs highlighting their strengths, limitations, and applicability in different contexts. The second session on June 05, 2025 focused on the nature of data, addressing the distinctions between quantitative and qualitative data, the processes and challenges of data collection, and the factors influencing the choice of survey designs like cross-sectional, trend, cohort, and panel surveys. Collectively, the sessions offered a comprehensive and practical orientation to research methodology, equipping participants with critical tools for academic and empirical research.

As part of the Ph.D. coursework, scholars had the honour of attending a thought-provoking session led by Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, Vice-Chancellor, NLUT on June 06, 2025, on the topic s “Engaging with the Constitution in Legal and Interdisciplinary Research.” The session was a compelling exploration of how the Constitution continues to serve as both a foundational document and a dynamic framework for legal inquiry and critique. Prof. Singh emphasized the critical importance of understanding the constitutional grounds on which laws can be challenged — including principles such as equality, reasonableness, and due process. He encouraged scholars to approach legal research not merely as an academic exercise, but as a responsibility that requires a balance between intellectual honesty and constitutional fidelity. He reminded the scholars that while the law permits liberty in interpretation and argumentation, such liberty must be exercised with scholarly integrity, clarity of thought, and a sense of accountability to the public interest. His insights served as a reminder that legal research, particularly at the doctoral level, must aim to contribute constructively to the evolution of law and justice. Throughout the session, Prof. Singh engaged the scholars in dialogue, asking them to reflect on the lived realities of constitutional rights and their relevance in shaping research questions. He also recommended key texts and authors for further reading, thereby offering the scholars a curated intellectual roadmap to deepen their understanding of constitutional thought and its intersections with contemporary legal issues. Overall, the session was a master class in constitutional engagement, leaving the scholars with not only sharper tools for legal research but also a deeper appreciation of the Constitution as a living, and evolving document.

2nd Intra-University Moot Court Competition

The 2nd Intra-University Moot Court Competition at NLUT was held on April 13, 2025, showcasing the advocacy and analytical skills of the university's budding lawyers. Organized by the Moot Court Society, the event saw enthusiastic participation from students across batches who argued a simulated constitutional law case. The competition was judged by a panel of esteemed faculty and external experts who commended the participants on their preparation, clarity, and courtroom manner. It served as a platform to cultivate legal research, public speaking, and drafting skills. Winners were felicitated, and all participants received constructive feedback. The competition reinforced the university's emphasis on practical training and legal reasoning.

Visit of Hon'ble Mr. Justice Akil Kureshi, Former Chief Justice, High Court of Tripura

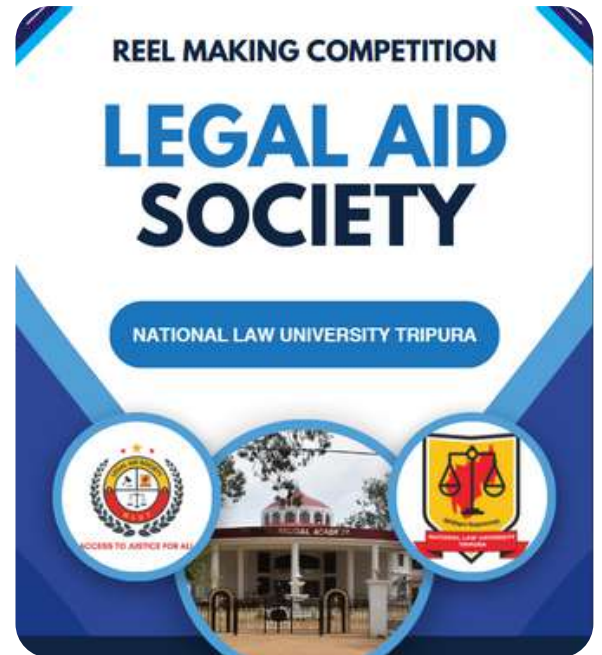

On April 12, 2025, NLU Tripura had the privilege of hosting Hon'ble Mr. Justice Akil Kureshi, Former Chief Justice of the High Court of Tripura. Justice Kureshi delivered an insightful lecture on constitutional values, judicial ethics, and his rich experience on the bench. He engaged with students and faculty in a thoughtful dialogue on legal integrity, challenges in the judiciary, and the responsibilities of future legal professionals. His candid reflections and guidance left a deep impression on the attendees, particularly the aspiring lawyers. The session concluded with a formal vote of thanks and expressions of appreciation for his inspiring address and gracious presence on campus.

Reel Making Competition

The Legal Aid Society of NLU Tripura, with the generous support of ShreeFoods, successfully organized a nationwide Reel Making Competition under the inspiring theme “Humara Sambidhan, Humara Swabhiman”—Our Constitution, Our Pride. The result of the reel making competition was published on May 20, 2025. This creative initiative served as a dynamic platform for voices across India to reflect on the constitutional values that uphold our collective dignity and rights. The event not only celebrated the profound connection between citizens and the Constitution but also encouraged engagement through art and digital media. The competition truly showcased India’s vibrant unity in diversity.

Health and Wellness

Mental Health Awareness Workshop at NLU Tripura

The Centre for Public Health Law at NLUT organized a Mental Health Awareness Workshop under the patronages of the National Health Mission, Tripura on February 20, 2025. This workshop aimed to enhance awareness and foster open conversations regarding mental health issues. Dr. Dipayan Sarkar from Modern Psychiatric Hospital delivered a presentation on the overall landscape of mental health, addressing various forms of anxiety, depression, and related disorders along with their symptoms. Ms. Jina Debbarma, a counselor from Tele Manas, elaborated on the Tele Manas initiative, which offers a toll-free helpline for mental health counseling and care services in Tripura (180089 or 180089180089). This initiative is a component of the National Tele-Mental Health Programme (NTMHP). Additionally, Ms. Tina Chakraborty conducted a brief session on mental health exercises. The event concluded with a question-and-answer session, allowing participants to engage further on the topic.

NLUT organized Revitalizing Yoga Session for Student's and Faculty emphasizing the holistic well-being of its community on February 28, 2025. The session, aimed at promoting physical and mental wellness amidst the demanding academic schedule, provided participants with an opportunity to engage in various yoga asanas, breathing exercises, and meditation techniques under the guidance of experienced instructors. This initiative underscores the university's commitment to fostering a healthy and balanced lifestyle among its members, recognizing the importance of yoga in enhancing focus, reducing stress, and promoting overall well-being within the NLUT community.

Mediation and Mental Well-being

On April 09, 2025, NLU Tripura organized a special “Mediation and Mental Well-being” session to address the intersection between legal practice and emotional resilience. The session focused on the importance of mental health in the legal profession and how mediation can serve as a peaceful and empathetic method of dispute resolution. Expert speakers shared strategies to cope with academic stress and promote mental well-being among law students. The discussion also explored how emotional intelligence is critical for effective legal practice. Student's actively engaged in the session, asking questions and sharing personal insights. The initiative was part of the university's broader efforts to create a supportive and inclusive learning environment.

NLUT organized a Health Check-Up Camp for its students, faculties and staff members on May 30, 2025 at the University premises in Narsingarh. The initiative was undertaken as part of the university's commitment to promote health awareness and well-being within its academic community. The camp was organized in collaboration with a team of medical professionals from the Health and Family Welfare Department, Govt. of Tripura, who conducted general health screenings including blood pressure, blood sugar, BMI measurement, eye check-up and basic consultation. The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from faculty, students and staff members.

Awareness Session on Mental Well-Being at NLUT by Ms. Madhumita Saha, Counselor, Modern Psychiatric Hospital, Narsingarh, Tripura West

NLUT organized a Mental Well-Being session on May 31, 2025 for the 2nd batch of Ph.D. scholars. It is very important in today's fast-paced academic landscape to take care of our mental well-being also as students often find themselves caught in the speedy expectations, deadlines, and constant performance pressure. While education is essential for personal and professional growth, mental health deserves equal attention.

On June 21, 2025, the Yoga & Wellness Cell celebrated 'Yoga Sangam' on the occasion of Yoga day. The theme of 2025 Yoga day was 'Yoga Sangam: Yoga for People and Society'. This event encourages the integration of mind, body, and breath, reflecting the holistic essence of yoga and its relevance in contemporary lifestyles. Recognizing the transformative power of yoga in promoting mental clarity, emotional balance, physical well-being, and academic productivity, the event aimed to highlight the therapeutic and preventive health benefits of yoga practices.

Co-curricular Activities

Republic Day Celebration

During the 76th Republic Day celebration at the NLUT, the esteemed Vice-Chancellor, Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh marked the occasion by unfurling the Indian Tricolour against the backdrop of a bright blue sky on January 26, 2025. He addressed the assembled faculty, students, and guests, emphasizing the critical importance of integrity and fraternity in fostering a sense of unity and oneness within the nation. His speech resonated with the core values that underpin the Republic, urging everyone to reflect on their roles in upholding these principles as they contribute to the diverse tapestry of India's identity.

NLUT celebrated the vibrant festival of Holi on March 14, 2025, with great enthusiasm and joy. The campus came alive with colors, music, and festive cheer as students, faculty, and staff came together to mark the occasion. The celebration reflected the spirit of unity, harmony, and cultural richness. Participants enjoyed playing with eco-friendly colors, engaging in lively music and dance, and sharing traditional sweets and refreshments. The event fostered a sense of community and offered a joyful break from the academic routine. Holi at NLUT was not just a celebration of colors but also of togetherness and cultural bonding, reinforcing the university's inclusive and spirited campus culture.

On March 15, 2025, NLUT achieved remarkable success at the NEP Inter-College Tournament 2025. Student's enthusiastically represented the university and secured top positions in several sporting events. Their performance demonstrated not only athletic excellence but also discipline and team spirit. The tournament featured participation from leading regional institutions, and NLUT's contingent stood out for its sportsmanship and competitiveness. The university administration extended full support and encouragement, contributing to the students morale. The victory was celebrated on campus and added another milestone to the university's achievements in extracurricular activities. The event also provided an opportunity to foster inter-institutional connections and highlighted the importance of holistic development in legal education.

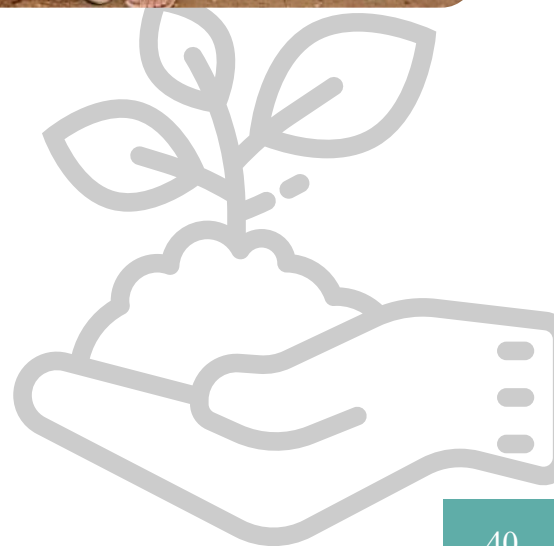

Farewell of the 2nd Batch of LL.M.

On May 17, 2025, the NLUT bid a proud and heartfelt farewell to its second LL.M. batch, marking the conclusion of a significant academic chapter. The evening was graced by the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Pratap Singh, who delivered an inspiring message encouraging the graduates to explore diverse avenues within the legal field, including academia. The ceremony reflected nostalgia and hope, as students, faculty, and staff came together to celebrate the achievements and growth of the graduating scholars. The farewell ceremony featured a heartfelt video presentation by faculty and staff, showcasing shared memories and messages of goodwill. The program continued with captivating cultural performances and lively DJ music and dinner, creating a warm and joyous atmosphere. Thoughtfully organised by the Campus Cultural Committee under the guidance of Faculty Advisor Ms. Merelin Darlong, with enthusiastic participation from the 1st and 2nd year students, the event was a fitting tribute to the graduating scholars. As they enter new horizons, NLUT extends its best wishes and immense pride in their future endeavours.

NLUT celebrated World Environment Day on June 05, 2025 at the University premises. It is a global initiative led by the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) to raise awareness and encourage action for the protection of our environment. The theme for World Environment Day for the year 2025 is “Ending Plastic Pollution.” It aims to tackle the urgent issue of plastic pollution, which has become a pervasive environmental challenge affecting ecosystems, wildlife, and human health.

Outreach Programmes

Awareness Session on Women's Rights

To commemorate International Women's Day, the Legal Aid Society of NLUT conducted a legal awareness session on women's rights on March 07, 2025, at Uttar Baramura VC, Killa, Udaipur, Gomati District, Tripura. Guided by Ms. Dipika Jamatia, Faculty Advisor, the session aimed to empower local women by informing them of their legal rights. The discussion covered crucial issues such as protection against domestic violence, legal recourse in cases of rape, and women's property rights. A standout moment was the performance of a nukkad natak (street play) on domestic violence by members of the Legal Aid Society. The impactful performance struck a chord with the audience and effectively conveyed the message of resistance and legal empowerment. The session encouraged active participation and dialogue, allowing villagers to engage directly with legal concepts and clarify their doubts. Attendees appreciated the initiative and acknowledged its relevance in their daily lives. In her closing remarks, Ms. Jamatia stressed the importance of legal literacy in advancing gender justice and achieving meaningful equality. The event reaffirmed the Legal Aid Society's commitment to promoting access to justice at the grassroots level.

NLUT successfully conducted the 8th edition of its School Connect Programme at Bodhjung Higher Secondary School, Agartala, on May 07, 2025, as part of its ongoing commitment to community engagement and legal literacy. Fronted by Vice-Chancellor Prof. (Dr.) Y.P. Singh, the initiative aimed to foster awareness among students of Classes 10th and 12th on pressing legal and societal concerns, including child protection laws and the dangers of substance abuse. Through insightful discussions on the POCSO Act, 2012 and NDPS Act, 1985, Prof. (Dr.) Singh emphasized the role of legal education in empowering youth and nurturing responsible citizenship, while encouraging students to consider law as a meaningful career path. The programme featured articulate presentations by NLUT's B.A.LL.B. (Hons.) 2nd Semester students, who skilfully addressed sensitive issues with clarity and empathy, sparking thoughtful interaction with the audience. The event witnessed active participation from school authorities, teachers, and students, and concluded with an engaging Q&A session. The programme resonated strongly with its theme, “Let us work together for the children of Tripura,” and reinforced NLUT's mission to bridge the gap between legal education and societal impact.
